SUBJECT: ABU DHABI'S EXPORTS REMAIN A ONE-TRICK PONY

(SBU) According to official figures, Abu Dhabi exports in the first quarter of 2003 totaled approximately 2  $\,$ billion USD, less than 10% of which was non oilrelated. The Customs Department report shows that Abu Dhabi's oil exports continue to be the main engine of the economy, in sharp contrast to better diversified

Dubai, where non-oil exports heavily exceed petroleum sector revenues. Total Abu Dhabi non-oil exports for the quarter were 96 million USD and re-exports 107 million USD. [Although we would hope that these figures are accurate, there is a tendency here to assign exaggerated valuations to the latter.] High oil prices in the first quarter of 2003 also resulted in greater income for Abu Dhabi, which no doubt inflated the difference in comparison to the non-oil sector, but the difference with regard to Dubai still remains stark.
